The name of the city of Neumünster is closely linked to the Augustinian Monastery founded by Vicelin in 1127. The city was named after a church dedicated to Bartholomew - the "Novum Monasterium" (new monastery) - was erected here in 1136. Today the grand neoclassical Vicelin Church as well as the Catholic Church St.Maria-St.Vicelin still remind us of Vicelin, the founder of the monastery who was also called "Apostle of the North". The former monastery mill pond shapes the centre of the city.

During the 19th and 20th century Neumünster grew into an industrial and textile city of international importance. The still existing villas of the factory owners bear testimony to this rise. The Museum Tuch + Technik is in part dedicated to this prominent part of the city's history.

Today Neumünster presents itself as vibrant and green city in the interior of Schleswig-Holstein with a wide range of cultural and leisure activities. Many historic buildings such as the paper mill and Holsten Brewery are nowadays used for other purposes. The "Holstenhallen Neumünster" are the largest and most important exhibition halls in Schleswig-Holstein.

Stroll through the city centre and check out its wide variety of boutiques and shops or visit the city's leading clothing stores, electrical retailers and furniture shops. Go window shopping along Großflecken, Lütjenstraße, Kleinflecken, Holstenstraße, Fürstthof and Markt-Passage.

The shopping mall "Holsten-Galerie" in Neumünster's city centre is a popular shopping destination. On 23.000 square metres about 90 specialty stores, cafes, restaurants and other businesses offer a unique shopping experience in a welcoming atmosphere. Entertainment is provided by a variety of activities, events and exhibitions.

Stores are open Monday to Saturday from 9.30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Due to its central location next to the main station and right in the centre of the city the Holsten-Galerie can be reached easily. Several parking decks offer 920 reasonably priced parking spaces.

Museum Tuch + Technik

2.000 years of textile history

16 | 17

How is wool spun to yarn? How are fabrics woven? In the Museum "Tuch + Technik" visitors can take a journey through time, experiencing the main principles of cloth manufacture and learning how they have remained unchanged from the Iron Age to the present day. 2,000 years of textile history are presented here. Visitors of any age can even try their hand at being clothworkers by weaving and scratching wool or analyzing fibers through a microscope.

The machines used for making cloth during the industrial age are particularly impressive. More than 20 metres in length and three metres in height, the "Dreikrempelsatz" (triple unit carding set) is the machine upon which wool flocks were woven into loose threads. On the old industrial looms, located within the museum's walls, the shuttles can be seen dashing backwards and forwards making soft plaids, scarves and tea towels that visitors can later purchase in the museum shop.

Opening times:

Museum Tuch + Technik

Saturday and Sunday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Closed on Mondays.

Kunstflecken - an extraordinary culture festival

28 | 29

Each year in September the city of Neumünster celebrates a huge cultural festival. For three weeks music lovers can experience a capella concerts, world music, jazz, cabaret shows, poetry slams and other performances.

Not only the outstanding artists attract a huge crowd but also the unique setting of the venues. The main stage is set up in the museum warehouse "Werkhalle" in between historical weaving looms and machinery from the early 20th century. Various exhibitions take place in former industry buildings like old factories and breweries. This way the festival called "Kunstflecken" also refers to the long history of the city.

By now the culture festival Kunstflecken is an established event in the cultural landscape of Schleswig-Holstein and attracts visitors from all over Northern Germany. Exhibitions and some events are admission free, such as the street music festival "BaDaBoom". Other events are well worth the price of a ticket.

Furthermore the "Niederdeutsche Bühne Neumünster" has been performing entertaining plays here in Low German language since 1923. The independent "Statt-Theater" delights its audience with its own and modern productions and cabaret.

Neumünster is one of the venues of the Schleswig-Holstein Musik Festival. Well-known conductors, orchestras and even international stars are acclaimed each summer when performing at the Holstenhallen, making your vacation even more enjoyable.

Live music enthusiasts should have a look at the programme of Neumünster's Jazz Club, the culture association KDW, Volkshaus Tungendorf and Caspar-von-Saldern house. A rich variety of music including jazz, blues, rock, folk or classical music is guaranteed in these venues.

Weihnachtsmarkt

From late November until Christmas Eve the main square Großflecken is turned into a colourful Christmas wonderland with a skating rink and many food stands. A cosy market atmosphere is created by the Christmas goods and culinary specialities presented here. Children love the merry-go-round - and sometimes even Santa Claus drops by.

Outdoor recreation such as walking, hiking, nordic walking, cycling, horseback riding and carriage rides are highly popular in Neumünster, the main spots being the gardens and parks of the inner city, the municipal forest, Lake Einfeld and the bog Dosenmoor.

Many routes are connected to the surrounding route network making Neumünster an ideal starting point for tours or daytrips. Athletic visitors can choose from a large variety of leisure activities such as fishing, swimming, stand up paddleboarding, beach volleyball, draisines (a kind of rail trolley), golf courses, a high ropes course, a skatepark, indoor soccer or an airfield.

Starting from Neumünster you can take different cycle routes within bike-friendly Schleswig-Holstein. The city offers a great cycle path network with short trips into the surrounding countryside as well as some excellent circular routes.

Take the famous Ochsenweg for example: this tour takes you back into the era of crusades and pilgrimages. In the 16th century cattle herds were driven to Hamburg and on to the Netherlands along this route and Neumünster grew into an important market city. Today you can enjoy this historical tour on your bike.

A cycle tour in the footsteps of Saint Vicelin.

In the "Vicelinweg" brochure and at www.vicelinweg.de you will find stories about the history, life and work of St. Vicelin. A lot of information, for example, about overnight accommodation or rest points, is available on mobile devices.

Neumünster for walkers, hikers, nordic walkers and cyclists

The city forest, the Schwale valley with the monastery island and Rencks Park, the bog Dosenmoor and Lake Einfeld are popular local recreation areas. For more athletic visitors the nordic walking trails offer several routes with three circuits which are interconnected by walking trails.

The "Garden Route between the Seas" is marked as walking trail throughout the city.

Lake Einfeld

Along the northern edge of the city glacial Lake Einfeld with its 8 kilometre loop is a popular destination for walkers, joggers, nordic walking fans and cyclists. Swimming, stand up paddleboarding, playing beach volleyball or relaxing - all of this can be done at the beach along the lake's eastern shore. The cafes and restaurants located directly at the lake are great rest points. Bike paths and hiking trails from here are leading towards Kiel or into the scenic surrounding countryside. A section of tour "Vicelinweg" also runs along Lake Einfeld.

Neumünster is a very green city, even in the centre: Rencks Park, the areas surrounding the pond and the monastery island invite visitors to stay a bit longer. The municipal forest, a so-called “Naturerlebnisraum” offers an intense experience of nature. The 520-hectare Dosenmoor is located on the outskirts of the city and is easily accessible by bike or public transport. It has been a nature reserve since 1981.

Municipal forest

Neumünster’s municipal forest “Stadtwald” covers an area of 119 hectare and is the second largest “Naturerlebnisraum” in Schleswig-Holstein. Here you can experience nature at its best. The brochure “Geschichten aus dem Stadtwald” (which translates as “Stories from the municipal forest”) offers interesting insights into the cultural and historical aspects of this park and forest landscape.

Einfelder Sehpunkte

The brochure “Sehpunkte” with its 20 spots around Lake Einfeld explains the culture and history of the lake with its villages Einfeld and Mühbrook.

Dosenmoor

The raised bog includes both well-preserved areas and rewetted areas that are increasingly being transformed back into a healthy ecosystem. Walking routes of different lengths lead through the nature reserve. The Dosenmoor Information Centre has its headquarters in the former peat factory and offers guided tours of the nature reserve, both public and by arrangement.

Garden Routes

The “Garden Routes between the Seas” give an impression of Schleswig-Holstein’s garden culture and invite you to visit the gardens and parks situated between the North Sea and Baltic Sea.

The route starting in Neumünster is called “Zu grünem Werk und Ernteglück” which translates as “Green Creations and Harvest Joys” and combines beauty and functionality. Starting in Neumünster the route takes you to the beautiful countryside around Lake Einfeld and to the monastery island of Bordesholm. This very journey was made in 1327 by Augustinian canons escaping the bustle of Neumünster by moving their monastery to Bordesholm.

Memories of the city’s industrial growth around 1900 come alive here, as factory owners created their architectonically and historically valuable private villas in extensive gardens. Other gardens served as recreation space for the workers. Fruit farms helped provision the city, for example the fruit meadow at Kieler Straße.

The “Garden Route between the Seas” is marked as walking trail throughout the city.

The importance of Neumünster as commercial centre and traffic junction shaped the city's hospitality industry. Many restaurants started off as inns and travellers who came by carriage or stagecoach and their horses were catered for here. The historic Café Oldehus at Großflecken for example started off as an inn.

Eat & enjoy

Neumünster offers the culinary variety of a vibrant city. From international cuisine to typical home-style cooking from the Holstein region or a selection of snacks and fast cuisine. Let yourself be spoiled! The Wittorfer Brauerei is the first brewery in Neumünster for more than 30 years, with its own brewing plant, beer garden and sale from the cold store.

Meetings and conventions

Neumünster is an ideal location for business meetings and conventions. Our experts offer a wide variety of venues, conference hotels and many ideas for your supporting programme.

Staying the night

Neumünster offers the choice of hotels and guesthouses you expect from a city: modern conference hotels, cosy family-run businesses, holiday homes or apartments and youth hostels - pick one!

Horse city Neumünster

"Events about horses" are an integral part of Neumünster's calendar of events. As early as 1951 the first horse show was held in the Holstenhallen, thus starting the long tradition of "horse events" in the heart of Schleswig-Holstein.

In addition to the VR Classics, an international horse show with World Cup status, the Holsteiner Verband, the Trakehner Verband and the Pferdestammbuch Schleswig-Holstein und Hamburg e. V. also hold their internationally important approvals every year. The "Ball der Pferdefreunde" (Horse Friends Ball) with over 6,000 visitors is the traditional annual meeting of the horse scene in the Holstenhallen.

The NordPferd is Northern Germany's largest equestrian sports fair. It takes place in spring and complements the extensive programme of the Holstenhallen.

Please check online for a current calendar of events or more information: www.holstenhallen.com

Its central location makes Neumünster the ideal starting point for a holiday in Schleswig-Holstein: to the East you will find the hilly region "Holsteinische Schweiz" with its more than 200 lakes and the watersports centre Plön. A little further on, the beaches on the Baltic Sea beckon. To the west of the city you will find the rural idyll of the Aukrug Nature Park, and to the north the Kiel Canal. And a little more than a tidal range away: low tide and high tide on the North Sea. Kiel Sailing-City and Hamburg - the gateway to the world - can both be reached in about half an hour.
